Greetings from the Search Committee

For several weeks, members of the Search Committee have been reviewing application information and conducting virtual interviews for all candidates referred to us by the Bishop's office.

On Monday, Dec. 14, we completed the initial interview period and identified those candidates who will be released from the search process.

After the holiday break, the second round of interviews will resume the first week in January.

Meeting the candidates and learning more about their ministry, faith and gifts has been a rewarding experience for all of us.

We are grateful for your prayers as we journey through this most important discernment process.

May God's blessings be with each of you this Christmas!
